Decompiler is the ultimate decompiler for Win32 and Win64 programs.A membrane associated scaffolding protein-1 (MAST-1) is constitutively expressed in the mature form in cultured epithelial cells. The structural and functional identity of a splice variant of the membrane associated scaffolding protein-1 (MAST-1) on the cellular surface has not been elucidated. During this study we identified an alternative splicing variant of MAST-1 by developing a rapid two-step PCR method. The identity of the alternatively spliced MAST-1 was determined by a series of reverse transcriptase-PCR (RT-PCR) and nucleotide sequence analyses. The cellular localization of the MAST-1 splice variant was determined by both RT-PCR and immunocytochemistry using an affinity-purified polyclonal antibody to a peptide homologous to the alternatively spliced region of MAST-1. The alternative splicing of MAST-1 is due to a splicing error of the pre-mRNA containing a 207 nucleotide insert between exons 2 and 3 encoding a 35 amino acid insertion in the N-terminal. The variant MAST-1 has a unique cellular localization based on the inclusion of a cytosolic region in the endoplasmic reticulum. The nuclear exclusion signal (NES) is included in the sequence, which must be disrupted for the variant MAST-1 to be translocated to the nucleus. Western blot analysis of cell lysates and immunoprecipitations of biotinylated cell surface proteins in the presence of a detergent showed that the variant MAST-1 is a transmembrane protein. The results of this study demonstrate that the human MAST-1 gene expresses a splice variant which is associated with the membranes of the endoplasmic reticulum.Q: two-dimensional array in jquery I am creating two dimensional array. var myarray=new Array(); $.each(data, function(key,value){ e79caf774b
