What are your hobbies? Mercy (M.I.A. song)

"Mercy" is a song by American singer M.I.A. It was released as the second and final single from her second album Maya. The song's production was handled by none other than Stephen Mallinder, who produced the single "Paper Planes". Like on the track, Mallinder also received a writing credit for production and additional percussion. It features the then-incarcerated rapper/producer Swizz Beatz, and contains a sample from the 1970s song "My Girl" by the funk band Zapp & Roger (see disambiguation below). "Mercy" was a commercial success in the United States, where it peaked at number five on the Billboard Hot 100 and number one on the Hot R&B/Hip-Hop Songs chart. In the United Kingdom, the song peaked at number 11 on the UK Singles Chart, becoming the first single by M.I.A. to not reach the top ten. Release and critical reception "Mercy" was released digitally on April 22, 2009, in the United Kingdom. It was then released to Latin

American markets on September 22, 2009, as the second single from the re-released version of Maya. A CD single was released in the United Kingdom on November 4, 2009. It was the week's biggest-selling single. Music video M.I.A. filmed a music video for the song in New York City and premiered on November 10, 2009, on MTV. The music video, directed by Dave Meyers and produced by Maya Vlassopoulos, depicts M.I.A. as a maid in a house with a white male servant. However, the husband, apparently returning home, enters the house while M.I.A. is in the bath. M.I.A. is subsequently caught in a compromising position with her lover. At the end of the video, M.I.A. is now pregnant. A teaser for the video, featuring M.I.A. singing the song in a desert, premiered on the BET Her show on September 22, 2009. Live performances M.I.A. performed "Mercy" with Zapp and Roger on Late Night with Jimmy Fallon. She also performed the song on the March 10, 2010, episode of Saturday Night Live along with the lead single from her debut album Kala. A music video for

What's new:

It's the battle for survival on planet Neos, where you must decide who to trust. Elden Patch 2.0 is available for download through the PlayStation®Store. For more information, you can see Neosera's Website. Finally, we thank all the many users out there who have been patiently awaiting the release of this product and are providing us with their valuable feedback. We will continue to listen.

Thank you very much."

You can find out more on these games on its PlayStation Blog. But just in case the information is a bit for the faint-hearted, here is Neos' last headline:

"One-off cleansing sessions are costly, but the game has gained an amply-sized crowd of new users,"
Today, Ascent's co-founder Mister Yen reports in the devlog. "The process to maintain the DLC was completed more than two months ago, but the servers were never taken offline. This issue makes the NFO and DLC patching process very inefficient, but thanks to the game's mechanic that allows instant respawning, we find ourselves with an ample amount of new users all thanks to eventful customer service. This makes me happy, but my heart is still with those who have lost their long-time server and have been unable to access the content. Thanks to its ads-driven business model, Ascent is free to play and every little transaction brought in 10% of its revenue. So far, 70,000 copies are downloaded worldwide. This hefty figure corresponds to average retention in one population. "We have publicly announced the end of our DLC business as we could not achieve what we wanted to in the way of exploiting players and maximizing our global customer support."
